SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1919.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FAVORS RECLAMATION OF TIDE LAND

Passes Resolution Endorsing Bill Now in Legislature Which Provides for Leveling of Hunters Point

That the leveling of Hunters Point and reclamation of adjoining tide lands is an important adjunct to greater industrial development made possible by the recent favorable decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in South San Francisco's switching case, is the gist of a resolution passed by the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting, in which the reclamation project was unanimously endorsed by that body.

The fight which the civic and industrial bodies of San Francisco and San Mateo county are waging for the creation of a greater harbor and the retention of industries on the San Francisco side of the bay, has for its foundation the Rastall report of 1916, in which it was pointed out that "the southern portion of San Francisco has the only natural deep-water frontage now available on the bay," and the Helm report, recommending a site for the naval base, which said of Hunters Point: "It adjoins permanent deep water" and "the largest and best anchorage in the bay."

Strong influence is being brought into play for the establishment of a free port on the Hunters Point site, a plan which would prove the magnet, it is declared by supporters of the bill for the leveling of the promontory, now before the California Legislature, which would draw many industries to this location.

The big project has attracted the enthusiastic endorsement of many San Francisco shipping men and is receiving the unqualified support of the city fathers of San Francisco, including Mayor Rolph himself, who says " . . . we must have space. The reclaiming of land and the leveling off of spaces that are at present inaccessible is one of the most important and progressive steps that can be taken."

It is estimated that the leveling of Hunters Point and filling of tide lands would add 2500 acres to the industrial area of San Francisco.

As a preliminary step to popular agitation for the creation of an industrial district at Hunters Point and of a free port, the Civic League of Improvement Clubs, which, broadly speaking, is the organization fostering this movement, has prepared relief maps of Hunters Point and the South San Francisco district.

HUNG JURY SETS DUBIOSI FREE

MAN FOUND IN COMPANY OF MRS. GONETTI ESCAPES CONVICTION BY JURY'S DISAGREEMENT.

Silvio Dubiosi, about 24 years of age and employed at the Pacific Coast Steel Mill, was released from a charge of lewd and licentious conduct under the vagrancy act, when a jury standing six for conviction and six for acquittal failed to agree in Recorder Dowd's court here on Tuesday afternoon.

Dubiosi was arrested by Officer McGraw in his room at the Linden Hotel on the night of January 14, where he was found with Mrs. Elinore Gonetti, a pretty young woman, from whom her husband recently secured an interlocutory decree of divorce. The husband trailed his 19-year-old wife to the Linden Hotel and reported his suspicions to Officer McGraw, who testified that when the arrest was made the woman was in bed and that Dubiosi was in a state of undress.

A packed court room listened to the evidence in the case and several tilts between the attorneys added interest to the proceedings.

Mrs. Gonetti, who now lives in San Francisco, appeared in court with her father and received a sharp reprimand from Recorder Dowd, who cautioned her about continuing her visits to South San Francisco.

ARRESTED FOR FAKE JOB OFFERS

PROMISES OF EMPLOYMENT MADE BY SHIPYARD MAN HAVE NO FOUNDATION.

Samuel D. Armour, who is held mainly responsible for the rumors of big jobs in the Orient which have recently been freely discussed among shipworkers, steel men and kindred trades, was arrested on Wednesday by Operative Harry Gorman of the State Labor Bureau Commission and Detective Henry Kalenbach on the technical charge of operating an employment bureau without a license.

According to Gorman, Armour, who was outside assistant to the superintendent at the shipyards, where he has been employed for a few weeks, is charged with promising to place men from the Shaw-Batcher and Union Iron Works plant in jobs at their various trades in China for a consideration of from $50 to $100 each.

Rosy Prospects.

He is said to have told a story of a "big job" he was about to take in a shipyard in China where vessels for the Robert Dollar Steamship Company were to be built; that he declared because of the task to get American skilled laborers and mechanics to go to the Orient the jobs were to pay $8 and $12 a day, and that the men would be furnished with transportation.

The police say Armour made such agreements with a dozen or more men employed in the two shipyards. Then numerous inquiries were made at the San Francisco offices of the Robert Dollar Company. Officials of the company brought it to the attention of the State Labor Commissioner, declaring that no one had authority to make such promises.

The police say Armour has taken no money from any of the men who agreed to his proposition, but that it was understood that his "clients" would have a specified sum ready for him when time came for him to go to China.

WHERE IS CURATTO?

GOVERNMENT SEEKING BROTHER OF DEAD SOLDIER WHO LIVED HERE.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance of the United States Government is seeking information as to the whereabouts of Guibatti Curatto, the brother of Vittorio Curatto, Company L, Eighteenth U. S. Infantry, who has been killed.

Guibatti Curatto, whose last known address was South San Francisco, cannot be found, and the government wants to pay him the insurance money on his brother's life.

His address should be reported, if known, to Postmaster Cashman or The Enterprise office.

MRS. HICKEY RECOVERING FROM PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Mrs. Thomas L. Hickey, wife of the Supervisor of this township, who was burned when she tripped and fell upon a hot stove at her home, has practically recovered from the effects of the accident.

One side of Mrs. Hickey's body was badly burned and serious concern was at first felt about her condition.

Mrs. McDonald will entertain a party of friends at her home next Sunday.

RECORD MONTH AT STEEL MILL

GREATER PRODUCTION IN JANUARY THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE PLANT HAS BEEN IN OPERATION

January was the banner month for production at the Pacific Coast Steel Mill, according to production records comparing the output of the big plant for several years.

Nine thousand and thirty-two tons of steel were actually rolled and shipped last month, as against 5832 tons for the month of January, 1918. This is the heaviest single month's production ever made, the previous high mark being in August, 1918, when the plant's output was 8789 tons.

The open-hearth production for the month of January, 1919, was 11,000 tons, this being by far the largest billet tonnage ever manufactured since the plant has been in operation.

Some idea of the growth of the plant and its increased production can be gained by a comparison of the figures for January, 1916, in which month 2684 tons of steel were rolled, as against 9032 tons for the month just closed.

It is prophesied that the production for February may be still larger than was January, the record month to date.

FAKE DIAMONDS MADE IN CITY OF SAN MATEO

Gigantic revelations of the possible fleeing of thousands of persons in San Francisco and throughout the United States by the flooding of the jewelry market with "fake" diamonds manufactured in an out-of-the-way place near San Mateo and so cleverly conceived that their slightest flaw was undetected, was the startling testimony given before Superior Judge Sturtevant of San Francisco in the $10,000 damage suit brought by Joseph Greenberg, a painter, against H. Somner, a Fillmore-street pawnbroker.

Swindle Is Gigantic.

Detective Cottle of the San Francisco police department intimated that the diamond swindle, bits of which were being revealed, was of immense proportion and had probable been responsible for the makers of stones, whose identity detectives have not as yet been able to ascertain, flooding the market with them.

He graphically illustrated to the court how he had managed to decoy Greenberg to a fruit store and there placed him under arrest on the pretense that he had work for him in the painting business. Greenberg explained his position in the suit by stating that he had innocently purchased the diamond which he pawned to Somner, later finding out they were being manufactured near San Mateo in great quantities.

STEALS OWN CAR; FULLER ARRESTED

VICE-PRESIDENT OF LOCAL FACTORY HAS HARD TIME EXPLAINING.

Were you ever arrested for stealing your own automobile?

F. W. Fuller, 2025 Lyon street, vice-president of the firm of W. P. Fuller & Co. of this city, has.

He had to gaze down the barrels of three police revolvers in the bargain, and he doesn't want the experience again.

Last Saturday night Fuller's car was stolen, and he reported the theft to the police, giving the number and make of the machine.

Later that evening he found it himself, the car having been used and abandoned by a party of joy-riders.

But, although he reported the car as stolen, he didn't notify the police that it had been found, and they were still hunting for it Sunday.

Unconscious of this, Fuller took a spin downtown. He was returning home when Policeman George Hippeley spotted the car and trailed it to Sacramento and Steiner streets, San Francisco, having glimpsed the license number and pegging it at once as an identifying symbol of stolen property. At this corner the driver of the machine stepped into a bar.

Hippeley telephoned for assistance and was soon joined by Policeman Fred Lotsey and Charles Milliken. The new arrivals belong to the team-rough squad, their specialty being arresting bandits. Recently they had an encounter with two purse-snatchers at Page and Fillmore streets. The thieves landed in the hospital.

Lotsey and Milliken, when told that the driver had entered the bar, jumped to the conclusion that he had gone to meet pals. They refused to take chances, and drew their revolvers.

PAIR OF YOUNGSTERS CLAIM ELOPEMENT

BOY AND GIRL COUPLE APPREHENDED AFTER SEVERAL DAYS' SEARCH.

After a pursuit around the grounds of the Central grammar school in San Mateo at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, Maurice Derruau, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Derruau, 211 North D street, San Mateo, was arrested by Officer John Lennon, in company with Florence Demartini, 15 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Demartini of 4 Howard avenue, Burlingame. The young couple disappeared from home several days ago and the police of this and neighboring counties have been on a constant search for them.

It was believed from the first that they had gone away together. Antone Demartini, the girl's father, preferred a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor against the boy. Derruau was taken to the Burlingame jail, where he refused to discuss the case further than to declare that he married Miss Demartini, but that he had "lost the license." The police do not credit his story, and an investigation is being made as to where the pair stayed during their absence from home.

The Demartini girl is with her parents in Burlingame. Her father is a gardener there.

Presently the driver stepped out. "Up with your hands, quick!" he was ordered, and the weapons of the police glinted in a ring around him. "Why, what's the matter?" exclaimed the covered man. "I'm Fuller!"

He had a hard time in making the explanation stick, and the tense tableau continued for a good minute or two.

"Hereafter always report the recovery of a stolen car," the police told Fuller.

BROKEN CHIMNEY BRINGS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT

Several feet of a tin chimney on the rear of the South City Hotel on Grand avenue fell to the roof of the building on Wednesday evening and a shower of sparks followed its fall, resulting in a hasty alarm of fire. The local fire department responded, but by the time the apparatus arrived the fire had resumed its normal functioning. No damage was done the property.

PAY YOUR INCOME TAX BEFORE SATURDAY, MARCH 15

San Francisco, Feb. 21.—Saturday, March 15, is the last day for filing income tax returns this year. A payment of at least one-fourth of the tax must be made on or before this date. The new law and outstanding obligations of the government makes this imperative.

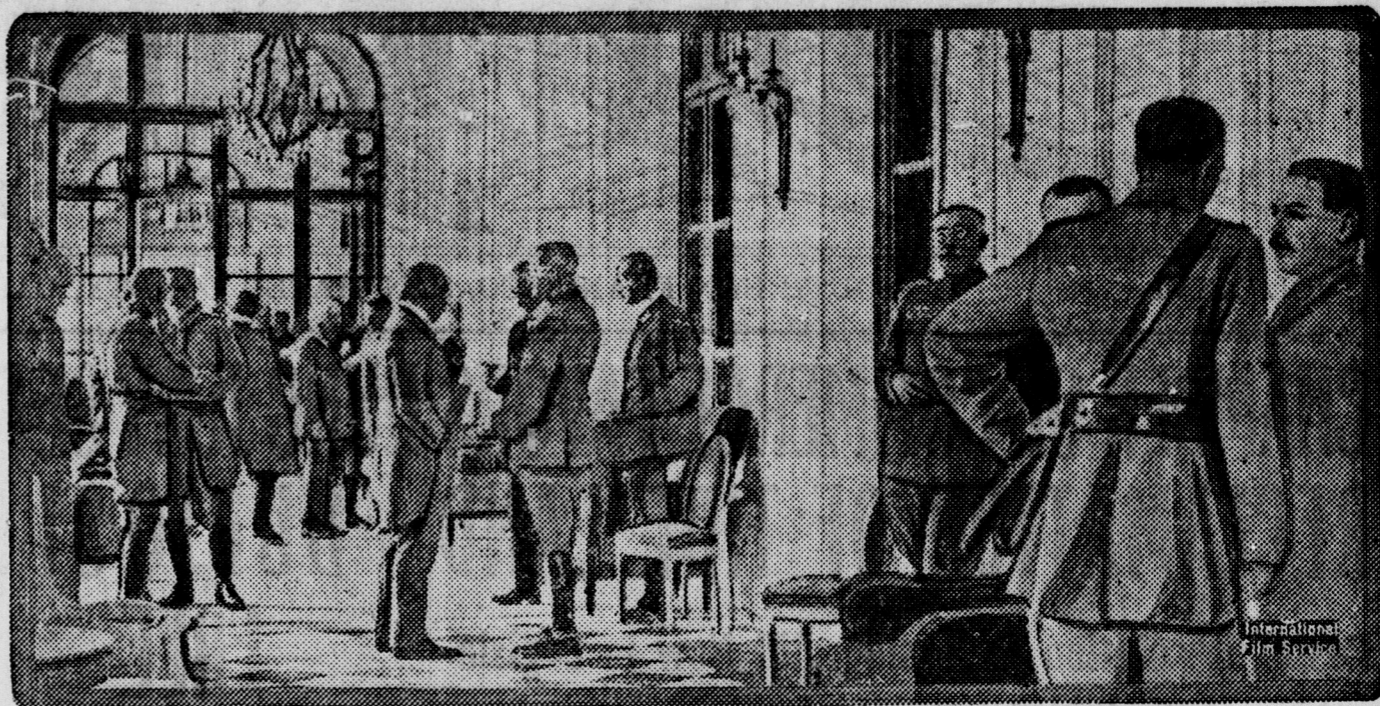

Collector of Internal Revenue Justus S. Wardell urges every income taxpayer to make a clean and complete transaction by paying his entire tax when he files his return.

Legal forms, serially numbered, are now being mailed to every individual taxpayer in the district who made a return last year, based upon an income of $5000 or less. Income taxpayers in this class who are on the Collector's rolls are urged to await receipt of this serially numbered form and use it in making their return. If, however, they fail to receive this form by February 24, immediate application should be made for the form at the office of the Collector or the deputy collector in his city, town or county.

Persons who did not file income returns last year, and who this year come within the requirements of the new law, may obtain forms on application.

A NEW ORGANIZATION.

San Mateo county has a new organization, the "Welfare and Public Health Service of San Mateo County," though in reality we are only greeting an old friend with a new title, as this is a consolidation of the Welfare Shop of San Mateo and the Public Health Service.

The organization has engaged Miss Hazel Wedgwood as its public health nurse, and San Mateo county is to be congratulated in securing a worker who has proven herself as efficient, sympathetic and untiring as has Miss Wedgwood during the year of service she has already given the former Public Health Service.

The Daly City and San Mateo clinics, which have done such efficient work under the old organization, have been taken over by the new administration. Let the people of Daly City step into the little clinic with the Red Cross on the window at 6556 Mission road, any Tuesday morning, and let the people of San Mateo call at 207 Second avenue any morning, between 9 and 10 o'clock, and they will quickly see—which is far better than being told—what these clinics are doing in ministering to the needy ones of the county.

The dentists have been especially generous in volunteering their services, and the fine example set in San Mateo and Burlingame has now been followed by the Redwood City dentists.

The Welfare and Public Health Service is affiliated with the Bureau of Public Health Nursing of the American Red Cross, and hopes very shortly to make public a definite plan for preventive tuberculosis work, especially among children.

In maintaining various new activities, to be announced later, the Welfare Shop hopes to have its earnings cover a large portion of the expense of running the clinics, paying the nurse's salary and providing her with an automobile, but the public will be asked to do its share, by patronage of the shop, by donating articles for sale and by regular yearly subscriptions.

The following names are announced on the board of directors, to which a few others are to be added in the near future:

Mrs. Harry S. Dana (president), San Mateo.

Mrs. John Johns (vice-president), San Mateo.

Mrs. Paul Clagstone (treasurer), San Mateo.

Mrs. George A. Merrill (secretary), Redwood City.

Mrs. H. W. Poett, San Mateo.

AL COSTA WINS DECISION IN KELLY FIELD BATTLE

The following account of a three-round battle between Al Costa, local lightweight, who is now stationed at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, an aviation training school, and J. Dewitt of the same place, appeared in a paper published by the boys at Kelly Field:

Al Costa of Section C and Dewitt of Section H came next, and proved to be the banner attraction of the afternoon. These two boys are more than ordinary scrappers and gave the spectators plenty of action. In the first and second rounds Dewitt was shaded but not by a wide margin, but in the third and final round Costa went after his man in whirlwind fashion and had his opponent so groggy that the referee stopped the fight before the bell rang and gave Costa the decision.

Costa, the batam-weight, will meet Champion Sox Powell of the Fourteenth Cavalry Monday night at the army post, who is scheduled to scrap in the second number.

BAN DOG KENNELS, ASKS DISTRICT ATTORNEY SWART

Every dog has his day, but doggie's day in San Mateo county is almost over. District Attorney Franklin Swart appeared before the Board of Supervisors and advocated the passage of an ordinance regulating dog kennels in the county. He said that in several places dog kennels have become a public nuisance, and particularly mentioned the kennels on the outskirts of Redwood City and another one at Moss Beach. Burlingame banned dog kennels some time ago, said Swart, and now they are being established in other parts of the county. He said the howling of the dogs keeps residents awake at night and furthermore that large packs of dogs are a menace to the sheep industry, which is becoming of more importance in the county all the time.

At his suggestion, the District Attorney was authorized by the board to draft an ordinance making it unlawful to keep more than two dogs within a certain distance of any other dwelling without first obtaining a permit from the board.

The U. S. Draws the Line

Labor organizations in the United States or in any other country are entirely legitimate. The only way in which the worker can meet his problems is through organization. Labor unions shield him from commercial greed, protect his rights and secure his privileges. Nothing can be said against the conservative and prudent labor union and much can be said in its favor.

It is the wild labor agitator for whom there is neither room nor place in a free country. His mission is the bringing of discontent and disorganization, and the methods which he upholds are too often the defiance of law and destruction of property.

The United States Government is in full understanding and sympathy with the labor organizations. In every important difference between capital and labor the Government appoints a commission to confer with the labor unions and consider the needs and grievances of the workers.

But the Government's answer to the work of the labor agitators is prompt and clear. It was, at the beginning of the Seattle strike, the shipment of fifty-four agitators and Bolsheviks East for immediate deportation.

These men find their interests in the hope of a general upheaval. Under pretense of sympathy for the worker, this is what they advocate. The proper place for them is an east-bound train carrying them to an east-bound steamer.

Our Doughboy in France

Yes, he grumbles sometimes—and who shall blame him? He has often had to march in the mud and sleep on the ground and eat "bully beef" out of a tin can. You never tried all that, did you?

And he swears, sure enough; isn't that the privilege of a soldier. Don't you remember Shakespeare's soldier,

"Full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard," and how two hundred years ago the British army "swore terribly in Flanders?" But the doughboy's swearing is what the French call a "manner of speaking." He uses the words as an emphasis, without much sense of their original meaning.

Yes, he is quick-tempered, too, and we will thank God for it. Remember how the inspiration of righteous anger joined with spiritual trust in his cause sent him over the top like a flame of fire at Cantigny, at Soissons, at Verdun, to work vengeance on the cruel of this world and to protect the weak.

For the rest, our doughboy is a clean young fellow. He does not drink—the army regulations see to that and protect him also from other forms of vice. He is generous and kind to a fault, and possesses a keen sense of humor, with very little use for hypocrisy in any form and a strong belief in all manly virtues. Whether marching through France or Belgium or Germany, fighting in the snows of Russia or escorting loads of flour into Vienna, he has an abiding faith in the good old United States and a love for home and mother.

We can all take pride in this modest young soldier and trust him to carry on the best traditions of our country.

The only entertainment left to the German Crown Prince in his banishment is the fun of trying to get a divorce.

Would it not be dreadful if in five years' time there were no one in the United States who could tell the difference between Bohemian beer and Bavarian beer and Bock beer?

Imagine a million and a half men abroad and each of them with the same two predominant thoughts in his mind:

1. "When do we eat?"
2. "When do we get home?"

Many of our old salts (say from 18 to 22 years old) are reaching home these days, hanging up their uniforms and their sea legs and their choice marine vocabularies, and getting ready to plow the fields instead of the raging main.

When the price of butter and eggs goes down do you suppose that the cow and the hen feel as if they were losing caste?

There is no scarcity of advice for the railroad problems. Congress is pondering over fourteen different solutions that have been offered. But no one seems anxious to try working out any one of the solutions.

Germany finds that it is one thing to approve of Bolshevism in Russia and another to be satisfied with the home-made article.

When we realize the present crying need for reconstruction in every line we sometimes wonder if we were every really constructed in the first place.

BENJAMIN IDE WHEELER RESIGNS FROM PRESIDENCY

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California has made public his intention of retiring from the presidency on July 15, 1919, following the meeting of the Board of Regents held in San Francisco, February 11. President Wheeler letter to the Regents is as follows:

To the Regents of the University of California—My Dear Associates and Friends: On the 15th of July next I shall not only have reached the usual age of retirement, but shall have also completed approximately twenty years of service in the University of California.

These have been years of abundant opportunity and of much plain satisfaction, but with the growth and expansion of the university they have involved heavy burdens and fast-shifting solitudes. The coming days promise only heavier burdens and levy their demands for increasing vigor. I appreciate with all my heart the unvarying confidence you and your predecessors have reposed in me and the sturdy support you have always given me. No one understands better than I do myself the inadequacy of any service I have been able to render, but I have honestly done my best. I am sure therefore that I shall not be esteemed to be quitting my task, if I ask you to give me your blessing and let me go. This is my resignation of the presidency, to take effect on the above-named date.

In devoted loyalty to the University of California, I am,

BENJ. IDE WHEELER.

Will the Peace Conference after President Wilson's departure be something like the play of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out?

A doughboy, the pride of our nation,
Fell in love with a pretty Alsatian.
When he asked for a kiss,
Said this pert little miss,
"What's the use of U. S. osculation?"

In telling the Washington story the teacher emphasizes the circumstance of George's truth-telling. But the man who owns cherry trees and a hatchet and a family of boys places very strong emphasis on the fact that cherry-tree boughs make most excellent switches.

There is at least one man in America who stands in no need of spinal treatment. He is Ole Hanson, mayor of Seattle, and there is no question either of the quality nor quantity of his backbone.

A question which will soon be practically presented to us for our decision will be: "Which is easier, temperance or abstinence?" In the general scheme of things, however, it does not much matter how we answer it.

PUBLIC WELFARE WORK

Under this heading The Enterprise will publish weekly articles furnished by the San Mateo Conference of Social Agencies, dealing with public welfare work.

POOR BUSINESS.

Is it good business for us to spend our money in a hopeless effort to support the antiquated methods of administering charity? If we would use our funds for constructive work, such as correcting physical defects in the children, giving them healthful recreation, and making sure that they were having sufficient nourishment to be normal individuals, we would have far less to spend for State institutions, jails, home for the blind, the feeble-minded, the insane, etc.

These we must have, and while we permit the present waste in human energy, we do not begrudge these institutions the appropriations they ask for. They are but the result of our present methods.

We are a young State, and yet the biennial appropriation for the support of our insane asylums is alone $6,000,000.

Ten years ago, the same appropriation was approximately $2,500,000.

This is, to say the least, poor business. Why not conserve our children, and, if need be, aid their parents to understand American standards? The need is great. When will the public co-operate for a sane method of accomplishment?

The most important work of the Public Health Service is a vigorous campaign of publicity and education in the interest of public health, to make the community realize that the most expensive thing in the world is ill health, expensive alike to the individual, the State, the nation and the race.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Raymond Spangler.)

The high school will give an invitational dance February 28. This date was chosen because after Lent a play is to be presented, and a dance would interfere with its success.

Owing to an oversight, the local high school was not represented at the P. A. L. meeting when the league schedule was arranged. As a result, South San Francisco was not included in the list of games. However, a game has been arranged for Friday, when the Blue and White will tackle the San Mateo five. Under our new principal, Mr. Adams, the team has improved wonderfully, especially in team work. The local team look upon the prospect of a victory with confidence.

Because a boy's father is a canon in the church is no reason for calling him a son-of-a-gun.

Neglees Are No Respecters of Climates

The land of the negligee is the land of perpetual summer that may be found within four walls inclosing a steam-heating apparatus, or in other walls that look out upon summer skies. The negligee is no respecter of climates; it insists upon being colorful and flowery and enchantingly suggestive of spring zephyrs and garden paths, whatever its environment. It is an inspiration, an invitation to leisure and idle hours, a happy change from ordinary work-a-day clothes. Every woman should do herself a kindness by adopting a pretty negligee as a playmate. It will put her in a pleasant frame of mind.

Usually these fanciful garments are made of sheer and soft materials as lace, georgette, chiffon and fine mulls, that float about the figure no more burdensome than the air and not very "long" on protection. Crepe de chine and very thin wash silks make negligees a little bit heavier and equally soft and becoming. The same gay colors are used for these. One of them is shown in the picture made with an accordion-plaited skirt of light pink crepe de chine and a short kimono of the same material. This kimono is true to form so far as its embroidered wild roses and rose foliage are concerned, but it departs from the original Japanese model, having fronts that lengthen into a girdle that ties in the back. Its neck and front edges have folds of georgette crepe set in, and a border of narrow black ribbon. The ribbon follows the girdle to the end but the plaits stop at the waistline. These folds of georgette with the band of black ribbon make a pretty finish for the flowing sleeves.

The skirt of this negligee is long, as is the rule with negligees. It might be even longer. Satin slippers go well with it, but there are many lovely, fancy boudoir slippers of ribbon or other materials to choose from, since a negligee must have footwear of its own character to go with it.

SCHNEIDER'S SALE DRAWS MANY THRIFTY PURCHASERS

The overstocked sale at the store of W. C. Schneider on Grand avenue, in which the progressive merchant is offering every piece of merchandise in the establishment at a liberally discounted price in order to reduce his heavy stocks, is attracting widespread attention and liberal patronage from the thrifty ones who are taking advantage of the opportunity, realizing that the first law of economy is "a dollar saved is a dollar earned."

The sale is not a clearance sale in the strictest sense of the word for, while many lines of merchandise are arrayed in plain sight, marked to exceedingly low figures, all stock on the shelves is being offered at a reduction of 10 per cent from the regular marked price.

In short, even though prospective purchasers are not attracted to the goods displayed on the counters, they can still effect a 10 per cent saving on purchases of any character.

The established reputation of the merchant insures that the sale is genuine and the goods exactly as represented.

The sale will end at the close of business next Wednesday, and in order to provide prompt service Mrs. W. C. Schneider and Mr. and Mrs. Foster, brother-in-law and sister of the proprietor, will assist patrons in making selections during the progress of the sale.

RED CROSS NOTES

Requests have gone out from Pacific Division headquarters, American Red Cross, to each chapter, to appoint a committee on nursing activities. The chief functions of this committee will be to develop and aid the organization of public health nursing over the entire territory of the chapter, and to develop and conduct classes in home hygiene and care of the sick and in home dietetics, need of which has been so strongly demonstrated in the recent influenza epidemic.

A co-operative plan for the improvement of the spirit and morale of the wounded and sick in the forty reconstruction hospitals in operation in the United States has been entered into by the office of the Surgeon-General of the army and the American Red Cross. This will involve an increase in the extensive activities along the line of recreation and entertainment for the men already in operation under the direction of the Red Cross.

To study the methods already in practice in Eastern hospitals, and to assist in the formulation of plans for the future, Colonel George Filmer, director of the department of military relief, Pacific Division, American Red Cross, and members of the Bureau of Camp Service of the division, are now in Washington.

Sedan, the scene of the final and decisive battle of the Franco-Prussian War, now has an American Red Cross canteen, with soup, sausages and coffee prominent on the bill of fare. Considerable food is being supplied to civilians, as well as to a large number of American troops.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL HOLD REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Woman's Club at the Martin home, 801 Grand avenue, on the first Thursday in March.

Members are asked to bring their thimbles and assist in finishing the sewing for the stricken Belgians.

Now that arduous war activities are practically completed the woman's organization has many opportunities for constructive local civic work, and several plans for the general advancement and betterment of the community are under consideration by the officers of the club.

STORK ARRIVES.

A baby girl, who has been christened Ida, arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Venturini on February 8.

COMING EVENTS

YOUNG PEOPLE OF GRACE CHURCH PLAN CONCERT PARTY

The young people of Grace Episcopal Church will hold a concert and dancing party in the Episcopal Guild Hall, adjoining the church, on Tuesday evening, February 25, at 8 o'clock.

Talented instrumentalists and vocalists have volunteered their services for the musical numbers. Following the brief concert, dancing will be enjoyed for several hours.

A nominal admission charge will be made and the proceeds of the affair will be applied to the repair fund of the church.

The public is invited to attend.

THE ROYAL THEATRE.

Several excellent reels will be shown at the Royal Theatre this coming week. The program appears on another page in this issue.

FRATERNAL HALL ASSOCIATION DANCE

The Fraternal Hall Association dancing party will be held Saturday night at Fraternal Hall. A well-filled auditorium and good music should prove a combination assuring a pleasant evening for those who attend.

A bargain, if sold at once. Our entire lot of household furniture is offered for sale. P. T. Lynn, 620 Grand avenue.

FORMER PASTOR MAY RETURN TO CHARGE

The Rev. P. T. Lynn, who for the past six months has been serving as pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, has been appointed superintendent of the Fred Finch Orphanage in Oakland. He will hold his closing services next Sunday.

Institutional work among children will not be new to Mr. Lynn, as he spent five and a half years in the State Industrial School of New York, having the opportunity of studying the most approved modern methods for dealing with unfortunate children. Mrs. Lynn is a trained teacher, and is well qualified for the position of chief matron.

A pastor has not been selected to replace Mr. Lynn, but it is possible that the Rev. Daniel Stevens, who received his discharge from the army last Saturday and was a visitor here on Tuesday, will fill the vacancy.

Mr. Lynn held his last meeting of the South San Francisco Boy Scouts last Thursday. Mr. Baldwin will take charge of the Scouts until a new scoutmaster is appointed.

Lina Cavalieri in "Love's Conquest" Tuesday's Production at the Royal

LINA CAVALIERI in "Love's Conquest"
A Paramount Picture

Mme. Lina Cavalieri, one of the reigning queens of the operatic stage and widely known as "the most beautiful woman in Europe," is the much envied possessor of an array of jewels which few women possess. It is said that these jewels approximate $1,000,000 in value, and consist of pearls, diamonds, rubies and other precious stones in vast variety. Most of these gems will be worn by her in her portrayal of the Duchess Gismonda in "Love's Conquest," which will be shown at the Royal Theatre next Tuesday.

The beauty and talent of Mme. Cavalieri, which added to her fame as diva, are employed to the finest advantage in this superb photo-production. She is seen as Gismonda, an Athenian duchess, masterful and beautiful, for whose hand and riches the neighboring nobles are vying. She spurns all offers of marriage and devotes herself wholly to affairs of state and the care of her four-year-old son. When, through the trickery of Prince Zaccaria, one of her suitors, this child supposedly falls into a well, where a lion is confined, the grief-stricken mother, vowing under the shadow of the cross to marry the man who saves her child, she renounces her vow when a simple huntsman of plebeian birth rescues and returns the boy to his mother, trouble ensues. How this simple huntsman finally wins her love and she comes to the full realization of her love for him and publicly espouses him, is told in a series of highly dramatic situations, filled with thrills.

Mme. Cavalieri is splendidly supported by capable players, her viz-aviz being Courtenay Foote, who will be seen as Almerio, the plain huntsman who wins the proud duchess. The picture was directed by Edward Jose and the scenario was written by Charles E. Whittaker.

HOW WOULD YOU DECIDE THIS WAGER?

If you were called in as arbitrator, how would you decide between Louis Genochio and Carl Muller, both of Redwood City, who nearly came to blows after a heated wordy battle over the payment of a wager on the outcome of the recent European unpleasantness?

It seems that shortly after the outbreak of the war and long before the United States became involved in the conflict, Genochio and Muller had an argument over the result of the war. Genochio contended that the allies—at that time consisting of England, France, Italy and Russia—would win, while Muller insisted that Germany would be the conqueror. Finally they decided to make a bet on the outcome and the conditions of the wager were set forth on paper, both signatures being attached.

Briefly, the argument provided that should "Germany be the first to sue for peace," Muller would give Genochio a $50 suit of clothes, and should "the allies be the first to sue for peace," Genochio would supply Muller with a $50 suit of clothes.

Last Friday morning Genochio went to Muller's tailor shop and asked Muller to make good the bet. Muller replied that he had not lost, as Russia—one of the allies—was the first to sue for peace. At this Genochio became angry and a heated altercation followed. Finally, Genochio walked out on the sidewalk in front of the tailor shop and publicly challenged Muller to come outside and fight. A crowd collected, and Genochio was finally pacified and persuaded to desist in his efforts to settle the argument according to the rules laid down by the Marquis of Queensberry.

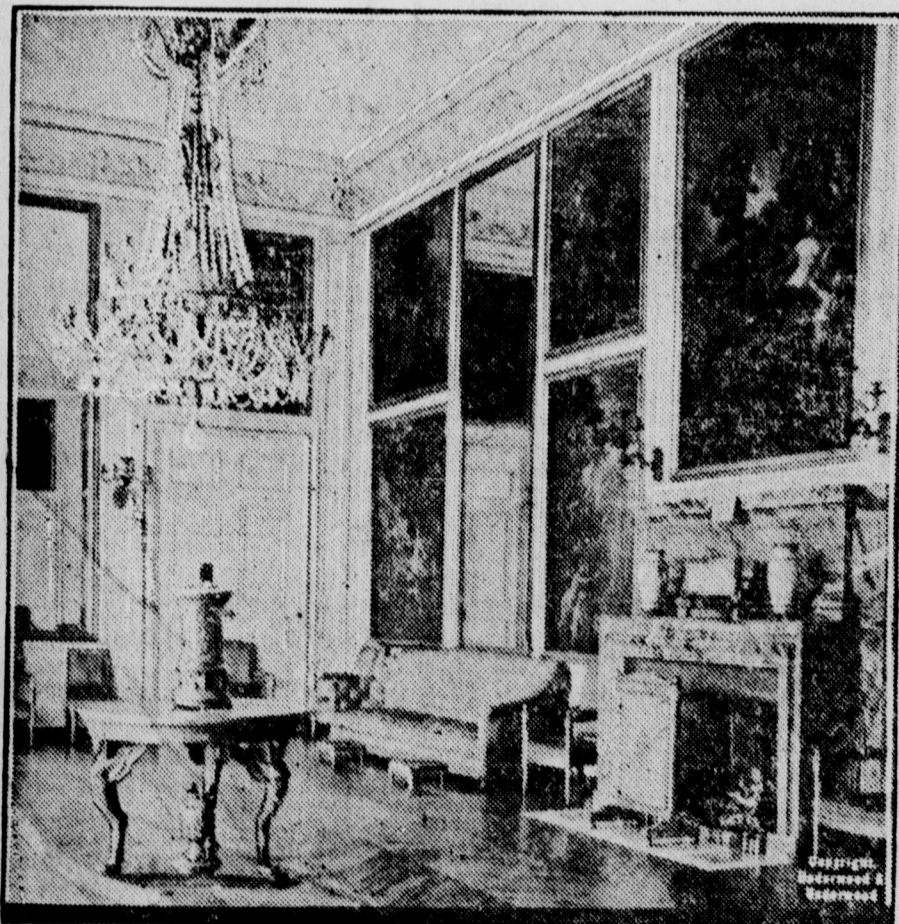

Subsequently, it seems Muller sent word to Genochio that he still considered he had not lost the bet but to avoid further trouble was willing to give him a check for $50. Genochio was threatening to take legal proceedings against Muller to collect the bet, but it is now believed the matter will be settled out of court to the satisfaction of both parties concerned.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. SOCIETY SERVICES

RECEPTION ROOM OF LOUIS PHILIPPE

This beautiful reception room of Louis Philippe is in the Grand Trianon, which is a part of the palace of Versailles. It is used as a reception room by the delegates to the peace conference.

KEEP THE MONEY HERE.

Here's a table full of facts and figures; it's what would happen if every Californian were to use California-made goods. It was compiled by a member of the Home Industry League of California and submitted at a recent meeting.

"Take any product manufactured in California," declared J. H. Harbour, "no matter whether it is marmalade, ginger ale, canned goods or anything you wish, and you will find it just as good as the imported.

"By patronizing home industry you would, first of all, keep the money in the State and—get a chance at it again. The money that leaves the State for imported goods never comes back.

"Also—you would give employment to "The men who make the goods.

"The men who make the labels.

"The paper manufacturer.

"The manufacturer of dyes.

"The manufacturer of ink and paste.

"The men who manufacture paper boxes.

"The men who act as teamsters.

"The farmers and the fishermen.

"The men who fish.

"The men who pick fruit and vegetables.

"Besides, by distributing your money in the State you would help

"Build more factories.

"Stimulate soil production.

"The cultivation of unused land.

"And make the employment of more labor necessary. Each workman would own a home, and the State's taxes would be increased, making new schools and parks and libraries possible."

But—think it over for yourself. Is $500,000,000, which now goes out of California for imported table goods alone, worth keeping within California's boundaries?

Plans are now being crystalized to make the "greatest show on earth," which will take place next October 4 to 19 in San Francisco, the California Industries and Land Show, where all California products will be on display. The honor of reserving the first space for county display at the California Industries and Land Show goes to San Benito, which county, through H. H. Whitmore of Hollister, has already reserved eight hundred square feet for the October display.

AFTER OVERSEAS SERVICE

E. P. Fitzgerald returned to his home here on Tuesday last after nine months' service in France with the Fifty-seventh Coast Artillery. Fitzgerald helped to cull the "kul" out of German kultur, having seen three months' service in the Argonne Forest and on the famous St. Mihiel front. He received his discharge in Chicago.

1732—WASHINGTON—1799

The defender of his country—the founder of liberty—the friend of man. History and tradition are explored in vain for a parallel to his character.

In the annals of modern greatness he stands alone; and noblest names of antiquity lose their luster in his presence. Born the benefactor of mankind, he united all the qualities necessary to an illustrious career.

Nature made him great; he made himself virtuous.

Called by his country to the defense of her liberties, he triumphantly vindicated the rights of humanity, and on the pillars of national independence laid the foundations of a great republic.

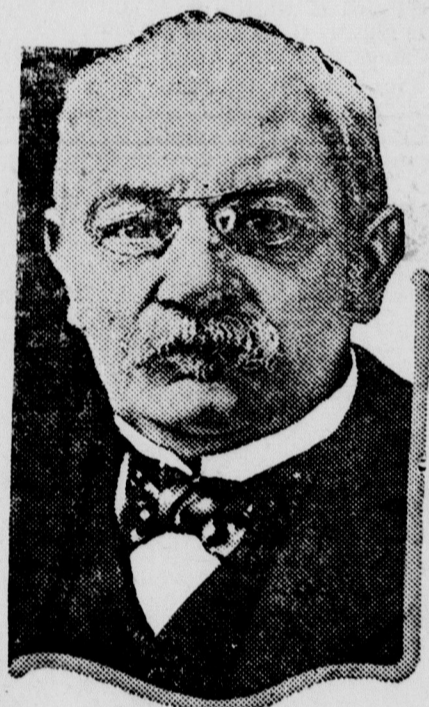

Twice invested with Supreme Magistracy by the unanimous vote of a free people, he surpassed in the Cabinet the glories of the field, and, voluntarily resigning the scepter and the sword, retired to the shades of private life.

A spectacle so new and so sublime was contemplated with the profoundest admiration, and the name of Washington, adding new luster to humanity, resounded to the remotest regions of the earth.

Magnanimous in youth, glorious through life, great in death. His highest ambition, the happiness of mankind. His noblest victory, the conquest of himself.

Bequeathing to posterity the inheritance of his fame, and building his monument in the hearts of his countrymen, he lived the ornament of the eighteenth century; he died regretted by a mourning world.
